

The University of California, Davis, Department of Surgery Academic Colorectal Surgeon

The Department of Surgery at the University of California, Davis; School of Medicine seeks to recruit a full-time academic position at the rank of Assistant, Associate or full Professor in the Health Science Clinical Professor series; appointment level will depend on experience and qualifications.

The selected candidate will be expected to participate in teaching; clinical care, both inpatient and outpatient; and university service. Qualified candidates must have an M.D. diploma; completed an ACGME accredited and approved Colorectal fellowship; be board certified/eligible in colorectal surgery. The candidate must have the ability to work cooperatively and collegially within a diverse environment. Additionally, the candidate must acquire a CA Medical License before the start date.

Preferred qualifications include prior experience in administration of clinical and educational programs, demonstrated experience in colorectal cancer and/or IBD, experience in minimally invasive surgery, and a strong interest in clinical education. Salary and level of appointment will be based upon experience and qualifications.

Qualified applicants should apply online at UC

Recruit: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01384> by uploading a letter of interest outlining surgical experience and teaching experience, current curriculum vitae with bibliography, a statement of contribution to diversity, and the name and contact info of at least three professional references.

For questions regarding this position, please send e-mail to the search committee chair, Dr. Linda M. Farkas at, surgery.jobs@ucdmc.ucdavis.edu

For full consideration applications must be received by February 16, 2017
However, the position will remain open until filled or to June 30, 2017

"The University of California, Davis is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, staff, and students."