

The University of California, Davis, School of Medicine, Section of Transplant Nephrology, is recruiting for a full-time academic position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the Clinical X or Health Sciences Clinical Professor series. The successful candidate will work collaboratively with a diverse group of surgeons, physicians, and nurse coordinators in one of the largest kidney transplant centers in the United States.

Transplant Nephrology Faculty responsibilities include direct inpatient and outpatient clinical care; teaching medical students, residents, and fellows; university/public service; and regular attendance at scheduled meetings and CME activities. Clinical efforts include all aspects of Transplant Nephrology, including pre-transplant candidate evaluation, inpatient consultation, post-transplant outpatient care, biopsy, and living donor candidate evaluation. Outpatient clinical activity includes participation in satellite clinics throughout Northern California and establishing/developing new referrals. The successful candidate in the Clinical X series will assist in the development of the transplant clinical research center participating in multicenter pharmaceutical trials as well as investigator-initiated studies. The Clinical X series also requires additional scholarly activities, such as publications in peer-reviewed journals.

Candidates must possess an MD degree or equivalent, be board-eligible/certified in Internal Medicine and Nephrology, and be eligible for licensure in the State of California. Transplant Nephrology training at an accredited training program is expected. One-year of formal training at an accredited Transplant Nephrology fellowship is a requirement. For the Clinical X series, experience in administering clinical trials and a record of publication and clinical trials funding is required. Fluency in the Spanish language is desirable.

Qualified applicants should upload a CV, cover letter, statement of contributions to diversity, and names and contact information of 5 references online at <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01957>. For full consideration, applications should be received by December 15, 2017. However, this position will remain open until filled through June 30, 2018.

This recruitment is conducted at the assistant/associate rank. The resulting hire will be at the assistant/associate rank, regardless of the proposed appointee's qualifications.

Under Federal law, the University of California may employ only individuals who are legally able to work in the United States as established by providing documents as specified in the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. Certain positions funded by federal contracts or sub-contracts require the selected candidate to pass an E-Verify check. More information is available <http://www.uscis.gov/e-verify>.

UC Davis commits to inclusion excellence by advancing equity, diversity and inclusion in all that we do. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, and particularly encourage applications from members of historically underrepresented racial/ethnic groups, women, individuals with disabilities, veterans, LGBTQ community members, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see:

<http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>. If you need accommodation due to a disability, please contact the recruiting department.

UC Davis is a smoke & tobacco-free campus (<http://breathefree.ucdavis.edu/>)